3. COMPLAINT MUST BE RELEVANT

In terms of the FAIS Act, a “complaint” means, a specific complaint relating to a financial service rendered by a financial services provider or representative to the complainant on or after the date of commencement of this Act, and in which complaint it is alleged that the provider or representative -

- has contravened or failed to comply with a provision of this Act and that as a result thereof the complainant has suffered or is likely to suffer financial prejudice or damage;
- has willfully or negligently rendered a financial service to the complainant which has caused prejudice or damage to the complainant or which is likely to result in such prejudice or damage; or
- has treated the complainant unfairly;

The financial services environment is complex. We will endeavor to address all reasonable requests from our clients but may also refer you to a more appropriate facility. Where the complaint relates to any aspect of our service, or any disclosures that ought to be made by us, we will endeavor to address those complaints in writing, within 7 (seven) working days.

In instances where the complaint relates to any matter that is not within our control, such as product information, we will forward the complaint to the product supplier concerned. Please be advised that we reserve the right to recover costs or damages that we may suffer as a result of clients making frivolous, vexatious or unreasonable claims.

4. TREATING CLIENTS FAIRLY

TCF is a crucial component in the way complaints are managed. These principles are:

- Customers can be confident they are dealing with firms where TCF is central to the corporate culture.
- Products and services marketed and sold in the retail market are designed to meet the needs of identified customers and groups and are targeted accordingly.
- Customers are provided with clear information and kept appropriately informed before, during and after point of sale.
- Where advice is given, it is suitable and takes account of the customer's circumstances.
- Products perform as firms have led customers to expect, and service is of an acceptable standard and as expected by customers.
- Customers do not face unreasonable post-sale barriers imposed by firms to change product, switch providers, submit a claim or make a complaint.
